

If You Are Not Chasing Jesus, Then You Are Chasing Death

By Jarrid Wilson

There are many things in this world that constantly pull and beg for our attention, our heart, our worship and our souls. The battle for our heart that takes place each and every day is an active one and one that begs to be acknowledged if one seeks any chance of keeping themselves on a straight and narrow path. Why? Because if we don't learn to put up our guard as Christians, the enemy will seek every opportunity it can to steal, kill and destroy our hearts (John 10:10).

If the opposite of good is bad, the opposite of life is death and the opposite of light is darkness, then anything opposing the grace and truth of Jesus is not only dead and bad but dark as well. Darkness is an enemy that although has already been defeated, yearns to poke and tempt followers of Jesus each and every day. It's an opponent that we must be willing to fight on a daily basis, choosing to pick up our crosses and die to ourselves so that the impeccable strength and hope of Christ may rise up and dwell within us (Luke 9:23).

When we pursue after the hope of Jesus, we are pursuing life to the fullest extent—the only true experience of life that really exists. But when we pursue after anything contrary to that of God's Word, we set ourselves up for failure, a failure where we'd be ultimately be pursuing death, and sometimes without even knowing it. Don't be tricked into thinking that the many temptations of this world can offer anything remotely close to the fulfillment and peace of Jesus. Because they can't, and they never will be able to live up God's intrinsic and bewildering design for humanity.

The battle for your heart

- Movies
- Music
- Advertisements
- Fame
- Materialism
- Money
- Television commercials
- Billboards
- Magazines
- Social media
- etc.

All of these things, although not always bad, can be used to tempt and persuade you to chase after something other than a life in Christ. Sometimes the temptation is obvious and in your face, but other times it may be packaged and disguised as something that can be justified because of emotion and feeling. Regardless of what or who is tempting you, the reality and importance of needing to guard our hearts remain the same. We live in a world where Jesus will never be accepted because he was never meant to be (John 14:7).

If we're not chasing Jesus, then we're ultimately chasing death. Let us choose to pick up our crosses daily, pursue after the hope of Jesus, and dedicate our lives to making much of Him and nothing of ourselves.

The Dangerous Allure of "Sexy Christianity "
Read Now →

Previous article

Next article

One Simple Step—Using Social Media as a Small

The Cosmic Importance of Children's Sunday School Group Ministry Leader

Jarrid Wilson

<http://JarridWilson.com>

Jarrid Wilson is a husband, pastor and author relentlessly sharing the love of Jesus.

4 Comments

Sort by

Add a comment...

Dalbir Singh
 Good one
Like · Reply · Mark as spam · 8h

Ani Modah
 Amen.
Like · Reply · Mark as spam · 1d

Kay Byrd
 Good stuff!
Like · Reply · Mark as spam · 4w

Load 1 more comment

Facebook Comments Plugin

RELATED ARTICLES

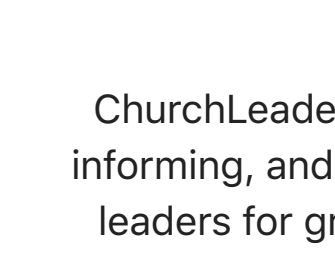

Want to Be a Bridge Builder? Prepare to Get Walked on

The Posture of Prayer: A Look at How Hindus Pray

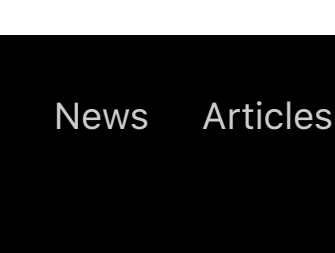

When You Say You'll Pray After a Prayer Request

Can God Bring His Divine Order to Your Chaos?

5 Reasons the Church Is Not Irrelevant

This Is the First Generation With an Online Ministry Megaphone For...

Sign up and get the newest articles sent to your inbox daily!

ABOUT US

ChurchLeaders.com is dedicated to resourcing, informing, and connecting a community of church leaders for greater Kingdom impact worldwide.

Contact us: support@churchleaders.com

FOLLOW US

